

Our culture uses this verse as a mantra for, "Don't you impose your standards on me." Tolerance for others differences and opinions has run amuck to the point where no one is permitted to "separate the truth from lies" which is the meaning of judging. What are your thoughts?